THE DAILY AVALANCHE

The fever at Tortugas originated from opening filthy sewers, which had been closed for five years.

Thomas McCulloch, an old citizen of Clarksville, Tennessee, died on the 19th.

Our Minister to Holland writes to the Secretary of State that there is no foundation for the rumor that $75,000,000 has been left in Holland to the descendants of one Hans Groff.

The Naumkeag block at Salem, Massachusetts, was burned Thursday morning at a loss of about $25,000.

W. Rockwell, the man who recently tried to assassinate Jack Looney, was, at Louisville, Tuesday, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The salary of J. W. Simonton, New York Agent of the Associated Press, has been raised to $5,000 a year.

It is stated that half a million panes of glass were broken in Philadelphia by the hail storm on Wednesday.

"Mark Twain" is S. S. Clemens, "Josh Billings" is Henry W. Shaw, "Jeemes Pipes" is Stephen Massett, "P. V. Nasby" is D. R. Locke.

Fessenden gives Wilson & Co. a [illegible] he says he does not consider it [illegible] a Senator, to express an opinion [illegible].

The ordnance train of Stoneman Sherman's corps made 15,000 miles in two years. A soldier of the Stonewall brigade claims that he marched 36,243½ miles during the war. A little too fast.

A Missourian went to see the reception of Sheridan, under the impression that it was the reception of McCoole, and concluded that "Aaron Jones wasn't much if he couldn't lick him."

Tom P. Ochiltree writes a letter from the Langham hotel, London, in which he poetically refers to Texas as the "husbandman's paradise, and the shepherd's elysian field."

The negroes in Louisiana are bothered to remember the names under which they were "registered." A serious loss of Radical votes is threatened from this cause.

John B. Gough has, on his estate at West Boylston, Massachusetts, over two thousand of the feathered tribe, consisting of turkeys, hens, ducks, pigeons and geese.

A dispatch from Key West states that the yellow fever in the Dry Tortugas has assumed a more malignant form. It is estimated that one-tenth of the entire number of soldiers and prisoners on the island have died since the fever commenced its ravages.

Postage stamps are a comparatively recent invention, but they have gone into universal use in most enormous quantities. England uses 850,000,000 postage stamps annually; France, 450,000,000; and the United States, 350,000,000.

Recently in Savannah, Georgia, a citizen, while digging a foundation struck a heavy silver watch, goblets and numerous smaller articles of plate. A fine china set was also unearthed. The treasure was supposed to have been buried when Sherman was approaching the city.

The La Crosse Republican reports that an Albany, New York, dealer in La Crosse, a day or two ago, stated that his firm alone will pay over a hundred thousand dollars, this season, for hops along the line of the La Crosse railroad. Hop raisers in that section are realizing about $1,000 an acre.

General Felix Diaz, brother of General Porfirio Diaz, in a letter dated Mexico, August 21, 1867, written in reply to one from Minister Iglesias inquiring who the party was who traitorously sold seven hundred cargas of corn to the French, states that it was General Ignacio Mejia, the present Minister of War in President Juarez' Cabinet.

The Kansas German Convention, which was held at Topeka on Monday last, adopted resolutions against Sunday and temperance laws, and declared they would not support any man for the State Legislature or municipal office who would not give written pledges to oppose such laws. An unsuccessful effort was made to commit Germans to negro suffrage.

When Artemus Ward was in Virginia City, Nevada, the hardy pioneers forced gratuitous whisky on him every three minutes during his stay. When he came to go away they surrounded the coach and cheered him. He mounted the vehicle and said, "Good bye. Take care of yourselves. I was never in a place in my life where I was treated so well as I have been here, nor, I may add, so often."

The following is an extract from a private letter addressed to a gentleman in Washington, by President Juarez, dated August 27, 1867: "Our affairs are looking well, and I have well founded hopes that are daily gaining ground that peace will be secured to us, not to be again disturbed, because, in my opinion, the elements of discord which might have altered the public order in the future, have now disappeared."

George Bancroft, the historian, is described by the New York Gazette as particularly gallant in his old age. He dresses extremely "buckish," displays a crimson cravat, adores pretty women, and particularly girls in their teens. He talks sentiment to them like an amorous schoolboy, whose fresh heart has just been ensnared by Arabella's charms; quotes Moore and Byron and Bailey, and urges them at the first interview, to call him "George."

The Episcopal Bishop of Virginia says, in a published notice: "In accordance with the provisions of Canon 5, Title II, Digest of the Canons of General Convention, I have deposed from the ministry of the church Rev. George T. Williams, Presbyter of this Diocese, he having declared to me his renunciation of the same, and his design not to officiate in future in any of the offices thereof." Mr. Williams, we believe, was the unfortunate gentleman who got himself mixed up with a lady's pocket book, in a New York omnibus, some months ago.

Wm. F. Stearns, a former distinguished member of the Holly Springs bar, and Professor of Law in the University of Mississippi, committed suicide at Owatonna, Minnesota, on the 3d of September, by shooting himself. He has since the war been living in Chicago and was laboring at the time under the delusion that he was about to be hung by a mob because of his political sentiments. He was, though a Northern man, a secessionist before the war, and was arrested by General Grant upon the occupation of Oxford in 1862 and sent North.

The New York World takes the following view of the field, present and prospective: "In California the Democrats have gained 29,000 votes; they have gained 5,000 votes in Vermont; 14,000 in Maine; and within a few months, they have also gained 11,000 votes in Connecticut, 20,000 in New Hampshire, and 1,000 in Montana—in seven States and one Territory, 84,000 votes. The gains in single States, for instance, in Maine, Connecticut and in California, are relatively far greater than will be necessary to carry Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York for the Democracy. In the last election for Governor in Ohio, in 1865, the Radical majority was only 29,026, and the negro suffrage issue presented in this fall's canvass, the Tribune predicts, will cost the Radical party "many thousand" votes; a change of 15,000 votes will enable the Democrats to carry Ohio; a change of less than 7,000 in New York will secure the same result, while in Pennsylvania a change of less than 9,000 is necessary. With only these gains the reaction will be less manifest in these three States than it is in Maine, Connecticut or California."

LOCAL NEWS.

Somerville Female Institute.

We had occasion the day before yesterday to pay a visit to this sterling school for the education of females, and from what we saw, and the wide reputation of Dr. Rivers and his accomplished and efficient corps of assistants, we hasard nothing in saying that it is one of the best colleges in the country. The worthy President, Dr. Rivers, has had an experience of thirty-four years in teaching, during which period he has been the President of four colleges, all of them efficient and first class establishments. From our short interview with the Doctor we came to the conclusion that he possessed one of those clear, logical minds, aided and assisted by scholastic toil, such as are indispensable to the proper training of the young. Kind, firm, learned in the highest industrious almost to a fault, dignified and natural, it could not be otherwise than that he should make a teacher of teachers, and bear with him the love and respect of his scholars, and enhance the veneration which the true scholar always feels for his alma mater. It is not necessary for us to say that he has a first-class establishment, after we have mentioned the fact of his connection with it, for he would preside over none other. Assisting Dr. Rivers and acting as Vice Principal is Mrs. Menefee, the worthy widow of Captain Menefee, who died bravely at Cedar Run, sword in hand battling for his rights, as the men under Stonewall Jackson know how to battle. This estimable lady has control of the boarders, she regarding them as her daughters, and they looking up to and loving her as a mother. Kindness beams from her eye, and a warm hearted dignity invites the love of the young maidens to whom she acts as mother, friend—all. They love her, they could not well do otherwise, for her presence begets respect and love. In the mathematical department the clear-minded Miss Elliott, of South Carolina, lends the brilliancy of her intellect to the elucidation of the problems, which are so perplexing to the mind of the young student. She does it well and thoroughly, and on graduation day, Miss Elliott, and the Somerville Institute will have reason to be proud of its mathematical class. The music department is under the supervision of Miss Ann Cooper, ably assisted by Miss Julia Hyer, the daughter of Rev. Dr. Hyer, of this city, so long and favorably known as a pulpit orator. The Institute possesses the best facilities for an education in the "concord of sweet sounds," having ten pianos and other necessary instruments, all in perfect tune. Miss Cooper possesses a reputation well deserved as a successful teacher, and her present class will do her honor. The languages are taught by Dr. Graves himself, with the exception of French which is taught by Mrs. Cannon nee Miss Devereux, who, from her French extraction, and the unequaled facilities she has had to acquire perfection in this polite tongue can scarcely own a superior. In the French class room nothing else is heard, but the words of this language, everything else being rigorously excluded.

Doctor Graves has adopted a system of lectures for the benefit of his pupils. Last year he delivered 36 lectures of an hour long each, of which his pupils had to take notes, and afterwards fill up, much in the same manner as reporters have to do every day. This induces not only a correct style of writing, but necessarily forces the memory to be retentive. The study hall of the Institute is one of the finest in the country, being seventy-five feet long by forty feet wide, and furnished with two hundred desks, and all the modern school room improvements. Dr. Graves is by long odds the oldest and most experienced teacher of Southern birth in the South, and thousands of young ladies who have passed from under his tuition, to become wives and mothers in this fair but unfortunate Southland of ours, when they read this, will bless and teach their children to forever bless, this old man eloquent. Another feature, which will commend itself to all in these times, is that Dr. Graves has concluded to receive scholars and not require payment until the middle of December. Many who are now unable to command the ready necessary to send their daughters to such a school, will, ere Christmas, be fully prepared to pay such bills; and the Doctor's proposition comes in the nick of time for such. We have to thank Dr. Rivers, his accomplished daughter, Mrs. Menefee, and each and every one we met in the Institute, for as pleasant and as intellectual an hour as we have spent for some time.

GRATIFYING PROGRESS.—The following report will be read with interest by our citizens generally:

"To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

"The able, experienced and costly corps of civil engineers, to whom has been entrusted by your honorable body the task of measuring the angles and the triangles of a survey, reducing the angles to the horizon, and completing a trigonometrical survey of the curvatures of the different bayous, sunken lots, old ponds, cisterns, yards, brick-bats, mortar holes, ruts, banks, gutters, embankments and other portions of ground, in and about the city of Memphis, likely to be of use in determining where to get water to supply the city of Memphis, and the site for waterworks, beg leave to report that they have made rapid progress with the work, and hope to have it entirely completed in about forty years, which, at the rate allowed by your honorable Board, of five thousand dollars a month, will only cost, in addition to what has already been expended, the sum of two million four hundred thousand dollars, which, considering the great number of persons to be employed with water, and the magnitude of the works needful, is certainly an inconsiderable sum. As the work in which we are engaged requires a vast deal of care and labor, we would respectfully urge upon your honorable body to order that our salaries be paid in gold or its equivalent in scrip. To show you the justice of this we beg leave to show by reference to one day's labor, the arduous duties that are imposed upon us. Having, after several weeks hard labor, surveyed the distance of a hundred yards along the little bayou which borders the Memphis and Ohio railroad, beyond the machine shop of that road, we yesterday reached a point where the bayou, in the course of a few yards, ran west, then north, then south, then west, then northeast, then west again. We concentrated our force to make a very careful survey. Beginning at a spot which chanced to be lying down in the sun, we took angles, cross sections and measurements, measuring the angles by a theodolite and repeating circle, and finding it impossible to measure perfectly straight base lines, we corrected this as in the case of French surveys, and then sitting under a shade, devoted the rest of the time to the laborious solution of right angles, spherical triangles from measurements of the curvature of the bayou. We intend to pursue during the next forty years the same laborious mode of operating, and hope that the result will be entirely satisfactory to your honorable body."

A RADICAL SENATOR FOR WAR.

Big Threats of a Small Man.

The Maryland Army Defied.

DETROIT, September 25.

A morning paper publishes an interesting letter which is understood to be from Senator Howard. In referring to the threats of the Washington Union, that Senators who have declared their convictions beforehand shall not sit in judgment upon President Johnson, Mr. Howard says: "It is generally understood that the Union is under the patronage and control of Mr. Johnson and his immediate advisers, and that in view of military operations now going on in Maryland and other border States such threats can hardly be regarded as merely for buncombe, but that the original purpose of the President to attempt violence on Congress has become deepened and intensified under the malign influence of his private advisers."

Mr. Howard continues: "Congress will do their duty firmly, and regardless of these revolutionary preparations. Let them be sure of that, and it rests with the people and the army to protect them in so doing. If rebels and rebel sympathizers have not had enough of strife and blood, they can, in my poor opinion, become easily satiated, by stirring up Johnson to assault Congress by military violence; and, indeed, I am not sure that in the long run such a mad attempt would not, as leading to a final and complete suppression of the rebellion and of rebellion, by the condign punishment of these vaunters, be a decided benefit to the government and the nation. There must be a final decision between these things, and perhaps it is the will of Providence, that Johnson's madness shall hasten it."

A LEADING RADICAL OF MISSISSIPPI.

The Immaculate R. W. Flournoy.

From the last number of Our Own Paper, published at Oxford, Mississippi, we extract the following certificate with reference to a wretch named Flournoy, whom we have already dressed off in the AVALANCHE, and who, though a rebel for the ordinance of secession in 1860, is now a leading Radical in Mississippi:

"This is to certify that on or about the third of September, 1864, I went to the house of R. W. Flournoy, in this county, at his request, and there took charge of some negroes whom said Flournoy had chained, and locked their chains on his own door steps. Said Flournoy also furnished me with money to pay the bill and directed me to go to Switzer's blacksmith shop and have the negroes ironed with irons around their necks, and by the direction of said Flournoy I carried the negroes to Saunderville, Georgia, and delivered them to Robert Flournoy, his son.

President Johnson Threatened with the Gallows.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, describing a Radical meeting at Wooster, Ohio, on the 24th says:

General Hayes spoke for about an hour, and was followed by Speaker Colfax, in a speech occupying about three hours in its delivery. In regard to impeachment, Mr. Colfax said he laughingly donated the days till Congress would again meet, when Andrew Johnson would be brought before the Senate for impeachment. And in regard to the threat attributed to the President, that he would prorogue Congress, he said that Johnson dare not attempt it, for well he knew the end would be that his feet would dance upon air, while the law making power would continue to form its functions. These sentiments were received with great applause.

IMPORTANT DECISION IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT OF GEORGIA.

Rights of Purchase in which Confederate Money was the Consideration Sustained.

From the Rome (Ga.) Courier, Sept. 7

The case of L. W. Dean vs. R. D. Harvey, administrator of W. H. Yoneli, has been finally determined in the United States District Court, at Atlanta, unless the plaintiff carries it to the United States Supreme Court.

Yoneli, in 1864, purchased of Dean his plantation in Floyd county, Georgia, for $24,000 in Confederate money. Dean remained in possession, but since the war entered into a rent contract for the place, with Harvey, the administrator of Yoneli.

Afterward Dean filed a bill in the Superior Court of Floyd county, to set aside the sale and to enjoin Harvey from turning him out of possession, upon the ground that the consideration of the purchase was Confederate money, and the sale therefore void. The Superior Court of this county first granted the injunction but afterwards dissolved it on motion of Harvey & Scott, the administrator's counsel.

In the meantime, Dean moved to Alabama—leaving his tenant in possession—and dismissing his case in the Superior Court and commenced his suit by bill as before in the United States District Court for Northern Georgia, praying for injunction, relief, etc. The case being argued on demurrer by the present term, his honor, Judge Erskine, dismissed the bill sustaining the rights of the purchase.

This case has excited a great deal of interest, and is, perhaps, the most important one to the Southern people decided since the close of the war.

SUNDAY, : : : : : : : SEPTEMBER 29, 1867

ON, or about, the tenth of October, the AVALANCHE will be greatly enlarged and otherwise improved. Newspapers suffer more, perhaps, from the depression of the times than any other business. In order to keep out of debt, we felt constrained, several months since, to curtail our dimensions; but now that the business season has commenced, we feel justified in enlarging our paper, which will be done at the time above mentioned. We have thoroughly reorganized every department of our paper, and we intend to make the AVALANCHE what it has always been since its foundation, one of the most popular and interesting papers published in the South. In announcing a determination to redouble our efforts to make a paper that will supply the wants of the public, we would embrace the occasion to express our gratitude for past favors, and congratulate our friends upon the brilliant success of the AVALANCHE. Last year our profits were equal to those of any paper in the South, and this year we have done as well as we could expect, in view of the hard times. We have not been in the habit of boasting about our circulation; but, since this subject has been mooted, we take the liberty of asserting that the AVALANCHE has a larger circulation than any morning paper in Memphis. If any of our cotemporaries are disposed to meet the issue which has been made on this question, we will compare paper bills for the last six months, which is the only correct and reliable mode by which the circulation of a paper can be arrived at.

In the future, as in the past, the AVALANCHE will pursue the same straight forward, earnest, honest policy. It will oppose Radical despotism, which is now blighting this country, in all its shapes, and under what ever device it may appear. It will oppose fanaticism, and all the monstrosities, humbugs and delusions that grow out of it. It will oppose boldly, bitterly, the thieving rascality; the tyrannical assumptions; the stupid and barbarous policies, and the lawless usurpations of the State Government. In a word, it will oppose all the machinery that the Jacobins have devised and put in operation to overthrow the Government established by our fathers, inaugurate anarchy, enslave the people, oppress them with odious taxes, and tyranical, insane and corrupt legislation; and in opposing, exposing and denouncing these evils we shall continue to do so without fear or favor, always holding ourselves personally responsible for what we say about anyone. Nor will the AVALANCHE be the organ of any dirty clique—the slave to any money power—the champion of any corrupt corporation. It will have no services to sell, no favors to ask, nor passions nor prejudices to lead it astray, unless loving and defending the Constitution be a passion, and hating the enemies of liberty, peace and fraternity be a prejudice. We have heretofore painted many of the scoundrels who are waring upon freedom and trampling upon the rights of the people, and the gallery would not be completed without a portrait of others, whose villanies we will, in due time, degueerreotype in these columns. We intend to follow our convictions of right at the hazzard of life, fortune and the world's disapproval. With this brief prospectus, we can only say: "Once more unto the breach, dear friends—once more."

THERE is a famous character in one of DICKENS' works, called QUILP, who kept, in the back yard of his warehouse on the Thames, a wooden figure-head of a famous Admiral. When things didn't go right with QUILP, he'd seize a bar of iron and belabor the unoffending figure-head of the Admiral in the most savage manner. Wiping the perspiration from his brow, grating his teeth with rage, and cursing the poor, innocent wooden statue as the author of all his woes and misfortunes, he'd belabor it until forced to sink down from mere exhaustion. Our neighbor of the Bulletin is imitating the example of QUILP. Instead of beating and pummeling figure-heads, he pitches into railroads. When times are dull, and he is at a loss for an editorial theme, he commences tearing up railroads and abusing their Presidents. Indeed he is a snake head on the track. Last year he spent most of his valuable time in slandering MILTON BROWN, President of the Memphis and Ohio road. We are not prepared to express our opinion as to the policy of Mr. WOODRUFF'S course in leasing the road to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, but we understand he was forced to do what he did. He had no other alternative, no option in the matter. If the lease had not been made, the road would have ceased operations, and it was better for it to continue under the management of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, than to suspend operations. All this talk about the lease destroying Memphis, is nothing but contemptible twaddle. Trade, like water, will find its level, and if Memphis offers the requisite inducements, she will command and receive the trade whether the Memphis and Ohio road be run by the people of Louisville or Memphis. Railroad companies do not conduct their business either for the purpose of building up or pulling down cities, but to make money for the stockholders, and we believe under the new arrangement the road will be managed for its own benefit, and with no view to injure Memphis.

We could tolerate this clamor against Mr. WOODRUFF if we did not understand the despisable motive that prompted it. Some time since a band of thieves and scoundrels got up a conspiracy to take the Memphis and Charleston road out of the hands of SAM. TATE. Another wing of the same dirty gang then commenced intriguing to get possession of the Memphis and Ohio road. These attacks in the Bulletin, are made in the interest of men who are nosing out places—positions that will enable them to continue their accustomed avocation of plundering and swindling. It is a shame to see as good a man as Mr. WOODRUFF traduced, simply for the purpose of advancing the aims of bad men. These creatures care nothing for the interest of Memphis; it is their own interest they are looking after. A boy once turned over a load of hay. A friend found him wringing his hands and exhibiting greater grief than the accident justified, and told him not to be troubled, the hay would all be saved. "I don't care," said the boy, "a darn for the hay, but daddy's under it." These assailants of Mr. WOODRUFF do not care a pepper corn for the interest of Memphis, for any consolidation that might be made with any road, but they think they can make money by getting possession of the road, and with this view they calumniate a man who, as President of the road, has shown himself both capable and honest—more than can be said of the unscrupulous tricksters who are slandering him.

Kittatinny Blackberry at the Wes.

Among the many testimonials received, the following is regarded as the most remarkable yet given. Mr. Wilson Hall, a farmer living on the prairie, near Bellflower, Illinois, writes: "The Kittatinny Plants got of you in the spring of '66, planted this season about 2,000 plants, one week earlier than my Lawtons, on the same ground and manner, and the smallest branch without the least or without any injury whatever. Price for strong plants $30 per 100; $250 per 1,000.

A Card.

WE will at once remind our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September, but by the 1st day of the month we will be ready to receive goods on store.

The sheds will be divided into fire proof compartments by brick walls, and covered with tin. Those who have patronized us for the last few seasons, and those who may have proposed to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can transfer cotton for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantage of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton sent for compression from other warehouses, while on all cotton in our own warehouse for compression, there can be no drayage saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it end to the cart, as any way for transfer by drays.

SEVENTY-FIVE LOTS,

Varying from two to three acres in size, embracing with the fee of lands all the wood land lots on the Tract.

The high reputation for fine health which this locality enjoys, and the choice of easy and quick communication with the city by railway or dirt road, give to these lands advantages that must be apparent to the business men of Memphis, as a cheap, convenient and pleasant point at which to establish their family residences, combining so fully the advantages of town and country.

With the object of removing all difficulty in selling, we shall offer the property upon the following easy

TERMS—One-fourth cash, balance in 6, 12, 18 and 24 months' time, bearing interest. Warranty deeds given and deed of trust taken, waiving redemption.

EVERY LOT PUT UP WILL BE SOLD WITHOUT RESERVE. Plans of the lots may be obtained at the office of the Auctioneers; each lot being staked so as to be examined before the sale.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Our city patrons are requested NOT to pay any one for subscriptions to the AVALANCHE without a certificate from the office authorizing them to collect.

GALLAWAY, RHEA & CLUSKEY.

There will be no service at Grace church to-day, on account of repairs.

BAPTIST TABERNACLE.—Court street.—Preaching morning and night. Rev. R. H. Ford, LL.D., pastor.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.—Regular services at this church at half past ten o'clock a.m. and eight p.m. Rev. Dr. Mann, pastor in charge, will preach.

We are gratified to learn that Rev. J. T. C. Collins has returned to the city improved in health, and will resume his pulpit labors to-day. He will preach in the Central Church this morning, commencing at eleven a.m., also at eight p.m.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION.—The young men of Memphis will not forget the meeting this afternoon, at the editorial rooms of the Appeal, for the formation of the society.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES IN FORT PICKERING.—There will be service this afternoon, at four o'clock, by Rev. T. D. Witherspoon, at the academy of Mr. T. F. O[illegible] on Georgia street, a few doors east of Main, in the vicinity of Fort Pickering. It is also contemplated to establish [illegible] for the benefit of those who cannot attend [illegible].

COTTON GINS.—Our planting friends [illegible] cotton gins will not forget that Fowlkes & [illegible] for the celebrated "Taylor Gin," and can [illegible] cheaper than could be expected for the times.

COTTON PICKERY.—Connell & Eakin, at the foot of Market street, have a cotton gin and pickery in full operation. We can say that all cotton confided to them will come from their establishment in the best of condition.

WATCH STOLEN.—The watch of Mr. Adolphus Boehm was stolen yesterday. Wm. Dobbins was arrested for the theft, and will have to answer to the charge to-morrow.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—Colonel John Heart, who yesterday unanimously elected Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, notwithstanding he had worthy competitors. This is a well deserved compliment, and we congratulate the Chamber on such an accession.

SENT UP.—The two negroes who endeavored to get fat on the Hardwick House hams were committed yesterday in default of $100 bail.

Five beef cattle were stolen from Mr. B. F. Ball's premises on the Hollyford road, four miles from the city, Friday night.

SUEING A JUSTICE.—A suit was commenced yesterday, before Esquire Hall, against J. S. Black, Justice of the Peace, for $50, penalty in State statutes, for acting as Justice after he had moved out of the district for which he was elected.

William Dobyns is under arrest for stealing a watch from Mr. Rohn's, a saloon keeper on the south side of Court Square.

GAVE BOND.—John Delany, who appropriated to himself clothes and money that did not belong to him, succeeded in giving bonds yesterday.

RELEASED.—John Walker, who was held to trial last week, by Esquire Black, for assault and battery with intent to kill, was released on giving bonds to keep the peace for six months.

SUNDAY READING.—Ed. Worsham, No. 22 Jefferson street, at the ALMANAC building, has all the late dailies, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Waverley Magazine, Record, Police News, Pilot, Irish People, Irish American, Every Saturday, Leslie, Godey's and Land We Love for October.

CHANCERY COURT.—Convenes in special session on Monday, September 30, 1867. The case set for hearing on that day is:
H. D. 218 Wm. F. Hardin vs. Wm. T. Avery.

THE NEW ORLEANS CIRCUS.—Haight & Chambers' circus will be here on the 7th, 8th and 9th of October. This is a combination that has but few equals and no superiors, and we shall take an early occasion to speak more fully of it.

PRINTING.—The Franklin job office, on East Court street, is still in the lead as regards good work, prompt delivery and cheap prices. Every pound of material in the office is first class, and as a consequence the work is the same. No man who once gets his work done at the Franklin will ever go elsewhere for it.

CONCERT.—The congregation of the Third Presbyterian Church in Chelsea gave a concert on Friday night for the benefit of their estimable pastor. It was a success all through, but we cannot help mentioning in particular the duet "Hear me, Mamie," by Messrs. Douglas and Wilkinson. It was an event honorable alike to the congregation and to the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Semple.

FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK.—The members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick are hereby notified to meet at their new hall, on Main street, next to Ward & Calvert's, this day, at half-past two o'clock, to attend the funeral of a deceased member—O. J. Rice

By order of the President.
W. C. MCCLURE, Secretary pro. tem.

IMPORTANT.—Judge Trigg, yesterday, in the case of Alexander vs. Fitzpatrick, charged that a contract made in the States covered by the proclamation of the President as in rebellion, was null and void, and unless the contracting party was willing to fulfill the terms, no redress could be obtained in law. We thought as much the day before, from the clear and forcible argument made by Mr. Yerger.

MARTIN WALT & CO.—This firm, among the first in the South, has now in store a stock as large as their reputation is wide. It is unnecessary for us to dwell upon the names of this firm; they are known throughout the South, and the consignee who sends goods to them knows that they are as safe as if he was attending to the business himself. See their advertisement.

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.—George Brown, at present doing service on the chaingang, had a desire for liberty. It had been curtailed by a sentence of the Police Court, and he endeavored to recover it yesterday, but did not succeed. After rather an exciting chase, he was again captured, and will undoubtedly serve out his full time.

The opening at Mrs. Sullivan's (late the Miss Sallie, at Kremer's), owing to sickness in the family, will necessarily be postponed for a few days. Her establishment is beautifully fitted up, and her stock of goods will bear comparison with any in the country. We are glad to learn that the sickness promises to be of short duration.

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street, and No. 293 Main street, have received Frank Leslie, Police News, Independent, Boys' and Girls' Weekly, Rural New Yorker, Stanly Setting, New York Weekly, New York Clipper, Irish People, Irish American, Metropolitan Record, Criminal Zetting, New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Brick Top Almanac, Comic Almanac, London Art Journal; also, The Negro; by Ariel. Call at Emmons & Son's for your Sunday reading matter.

L. KREMER'S.—This establishment is now in the full tide of deserved success. Madame Kremer has but just returned from Europe, and her well known taste must have been considerably improved, if that were possible, from the experience of her trip, taken, as it was, when the great Exposition was an assured success. She had an opportunity of attending the Congress of Fashion there in session, and we feel assured that her patrons will benefit by it. On the 15th of October her grand stock will be ready for exhibition, and the show of bonnets, flowers, feathers, velvets, and the thousand and one things which enter into a lady's outfit, will be found to be unexcelled this side of New York, and but by few in that great emporium.

BURGLARY.—The residence of H. Clay King, on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, about two miles from the city, was entered by a burglar night before last. Mr. King was awakened by a noise in the house, and on opening his eyes discerned the form of a man at his bedside. A glance revealed the intruder to be a negro, in whose hand was a weapon of some description. Acting on impulse, Colonel King sprang from the bed and seized a pistol. He had no sooner moved than the robber ran out of the room, and his accomplice, who was busily engaged in ransacking some bureau drawers, closely followed. The first robber succeeded in making good his escape uninjured, but his comrade was not so fortunate, for Mr. King discharged a pistol at him, which must have taken effect, as distinct marks of blood were found in his track in the morning. The only booty obtained was a gold watch belonging to Mrs. King.

NEW AGENCY OFFICE.—Mr. Samuel Shock, long and most favorably known here as an active and energetic business man, who has had the passenger agencies for the Memphis and New Orleans line, the Vicksburg and White river lines, will open an office in the Overton Hotel, assisted by Mr. James Speed, late of No. 5 Jefferson street, where tickets may be secured for transportation by boat or rail, as to any point on this continent or in Europe. Those wishing to procure tickets for friends in any part of Europe, to insure their passage to this country, can be accommodated with the very best facilities. Captain Shock's office is intended to furnish the traveling public with the most certain and speedy conveyance, by rail or steamboat, and its opening will form an epoch in the history of our city connected with traveling facilities. Mr. Speed, the assistant of Captain Shock, is thoroughly posted in all the routes and modes of conveyance. He is a gentleman of the highest character, and will afford all the information as to the best, nearest, cheapest and speediest routes that may be required. Mr. Shock was to leave last night to attend the convention at the Falls of Niagara to perfect all his arrangements. Mr. Speed will open the office at the Overton on Tuesday, and will have charge of the entire business until Captain Shock's return, for which he is every way qualified.

DRY GOODS.

Lowenstein & Co.'s One Price Establishment.

We had occasion yesterday to pass through the dry goods house of S. Lowenstein & Co., 262 Main street, corner of Jefferson, and were more than favorably impressed with the extent of the establishment, the variety and neatness of the stock, and the urbanity and suavity of S. Lowenstein, his brothers, and in fact all the gentlemanly salesmen. We propose to try to convey to our readers some slight idea of the extent of this establishment, and the manner in which business is conducted. On entering the house we found ourselves amid a beautiful moving panorama of ladies, engaged in supplying their wants in the retail department on

THE FIRST FLOOR.

This portion of the establishment is supplied in an almost inexhaustible degree from the wholesale department up stairs. Here, besides the retail department, where everything that the most fastidious could desire is spread out in lavish abundance, is a magnificent fit and cloak room, unexcelled this side of our great metropolitan centers. The display of silks was gorgeous, rich, and, we might say, unequalled. The fabrics of all the great silk marts in the world were there, taking as many shades as the phantasmion, and excelling in richness all that had ever been dreamed of, even in the golden days of the good Haroun Alraschid." In the cloak room we to be found all that exquisiteness could desire or the form of beauty wish to clothe itself with. More than twenty ladies are engaged in the manufacture of stock for this room, and having one of the best cutters outside of Paris, they are prepared to make this a specialty; and ladies can have their cloaks made to order in any style desirable, either as to quality or fashion. Back of the cloak room is a beautiful dressing room, which must prove a great convenience, and will add much to the interest of this establishment. In the retail department everything in lavish abundance can be found to supply the thousand wants to which womankind is heir to.

THE SECOND STORY

is devoted to the wholesale department, and the markets of the world have been ransacked to fill its groaning shelves. Everything that may be worn by the richest lady in the land, or the poorest negro wench in the cotton field, can here be procured, and calicoes, silks, notions, shoes, and all that goes to make up a first class establishment, are scattered round, but with order, as "thick as autumn leaves." Here, situated in the new addition to the house, is what must prove the paradise of the shopper, the millinery and dressmaking department. Ribbons that, stretched together, would girdle the world, trimmings that would make a saint leave her rosary to contemplate, grasps, whose texture is firmness itself, and flowers which would not pale before their natural prototypes. In this department we got lost amid a haze of beauty, and had to leave it strictly in self defense. And we been a woman we had been in paradise, but as it was, being only a man, the beauty and almost pulp like blossoming of the things of beauty dazed us, and almost made us sigh that such "joys forever" were not for our wearing.

THIRD STORY.

Here is situated the shoe department, and box on box reared themselves to our gaze. The stock of this department is unexcelled, and everything that Miles manufactures, or is produced by other artists in leather, is here found. Lowenstein makes the sale of Miles' shoes a speciality, but everything else in this line is on hand, and the foot that could not be clothed from this department, should be allowed to go barefoot. Lowenstein & Brother intend to make their business strictly a one price one, and that price the lowest living one. No firm will be allowed to under sell them, to keep better goods, a larger or more select variety, or more gentlemanly and attentive clerks for their sale.

Shelby and his Men.

Major John A. Edwards, Assistant Adjutant General upon the staff of Major General Jo. O. Shelby, has just completed a long work, which contains an entire history of "The War in the West," as well as a succinct narration of the doings of Marmaduke's cavalry and the army of the Trans-Mississippi. It is the only authentic history of the war in the West, which as yet, we have seen, and is well written.

Present upon the staff of so prominent an officer, and conversant with all the facts that his book contains, together with his knowledge of the men of whom he writes, and their characters, he has been eminently successful in all his descriptions. He is a pleasing writer and well understands the course to pursue to become a popular one. Some scenes described by him have rarely, if ever, been excelled within our knowledge. His pen seems to animate even the subject, and as he progresses his descriptive faculties entrance us. The interviews of Lieutenant General Holmes with Major General Thomas C. Hindman, and Lieutenant General E. Kirby Smith with his subordinate officers just prior to Price's last raid, are correct even to detail, and General Hindman's address to his command will give longer in history, through the medium of this work, than had it have been uttered in the presence of the ablest historian of the age. The work is eminently truthful and has been ably handled. It will be remembered that its author, Major Edwards, was a partner of the lamented Governor Allen, of Louisiana, in editing a paper in the City of Mexico, since the surrender. He has returned to this country with all his former energy of mind, but crippled in fortune. The city will be canvassed for the work by James Sullivan, who alone is authorized to received subscriptions. The work will be ready by October 1st for distribution.

UNITED STATES COURT.—Yesterday Judge Trigg charged the jury in the case of Alexander vs. Fitzpatrick. His Honor recited the general law relating to contracts, and the duties of all parties to the contract. He gave it as his opinion "that the exceptions, stated in the President's proclamation of 1861, declaring certain States and districts in a state of insurrection, did not include the territory embraced within the military posts at Memphis, Fort Pillow and Fulton, in 1862; and that the people outside of these picket lines had no right given them by the Government to trade with the people within the lines formed by the Federal forces;" and further, that the inhabitants of Tennessee, prior to the occupation of these military posts in Tennessee, were in insurrection. The jury had not agreed up to the time of adjournment of Court.

The injunction case of Dean vs. the Gayoso Gas Company et al., was continued until next Tuesday.

Mr. Anderson, one of the counsel in the Milliken habeas corpus case, asked that that case be taken up and disposed of without any further delay. He argued that the Constitution in such cases guaranteed to every citizen a speedy trial; that his client was now, and had been for days, in the custody of the United States Marshal; that the investigation under the writ of habeas corpus was being prolonged unnecessarily; and concluded by asking the Court to proceed with the case.

Judge Barbour Lewis, on behalf of the Government, offered some objection to going into the case at that time, and remarked "that the prisoner was doing very well in the hands of the Marshal."

Mr. Anderson replied that whether he was doing well or not was not the question; he was illegally restrained of his liberty, and was entitled to a speedy investigation.

Judge Trigg said that he had not hurried on the case for the reason that Mr. Justice Swayne (who was at present absent) had heard the application when first presented, and that he preferred waiting a day or two, until he could hear from Justice Swayne; but that he would take up the case on Monday next, and proceed with it to the conclusion.

TRANSFER OF REAL ESTATE.—E. A. White to M. Boriand, deed, $500, tract of land in the Tenth Civil and Eleventh Surveyor's Districts, on south side of Wolf river, containing 81 45-100 acres, including an island of seven acres.

S. D. McClure to Board of Directors of the Franklin Insurance and Banking Company, deed to secure claims against said Company, lot situated at the northeast corner of Front and Jefferson streets, fronting 14 feet on Front street by 50 feet, with tenement thereon and personal property therein.

John Hallum to S. D. McClure, quit claim deed, same property above conveyed.

Emma W. Shock et al. to James P. Coffin et al., quit claim deed, lot No. 34 in Bradford's subdivision, laying on the north side of Bradford street.

Nathan Vaught to C. N. Case, Jr., deed $6,250, part of subdivision Nos. 1 and 2 of lot No. 1, block 55 in the plan of South Memphis, being 178 feet on Lauderdale street by 72 feet.

THE RACES YESTERDAY.—Yesterday most auspiciously opened the fall turf season, and gave us a foretaste of what we may expect during the fall meeting. The running race was won by M. C. Costello's entry, a Lexington filly, three years old, who made the race easy, and won under a tight rein in 1:02¾ and 1:02¾. It was patent from the start that the blood of Lexington had the heels of everything on the ground, and had the filly been let out, we might have to record the Memphis track as among the fastest, for the age of the mare. In the second heat she seemed to have taken control from her rider, and appeared determined to shut down on the nags trailing in her rear; and she did so, and came in under the string, the easiest of easy winners, distancing all. Worley, the favorite on the ground, at the outcome in the decisive heat, was two or three lengths behind the distance pole, Maggie English taking his dust, and the bay mare laboring far in the distance. The trotting match was well contested in the first heat, and but for an accident to Jack Shepherd horse, (he having cast a shoe and cut his leg,) would have been a interesting as the running race. It was decided, however, by a foul.

THE NEW MEMPHIS.—Miss Boyd appeared last night at Blanks, and she pleased us much, notwithstanding unfavorable circumstances. She grows upon the sympathy and reason of her audiences nightly, and her success is predetermined. The great heart of the people is expanding to her, and she is worthy of it. She has been engaged for another week, and will appear Monday night in the "Marble Heart," in which she has received the encomiums of many critical audiences. We hear a rumor that a grand complimentary benefit for her is in contemplation. We hope it is so, for she deserves it.

We cannot to night pass by the decided hit made by Miss Fanny Pierson as Sally Scraggs in the Stage Struck Tailor. She was good, and the clear, ringing tones of her voice still vibrate in our ears. She is the best soubrette we have seen in many a year, and her popularity in Memphis commenced last night. Manager Thompson, place Fanny Pierson on the stage when ever you can.

DIGNITY.—We like dignity; in fact we might say that we have a leaning that way ourselves, were we not too modest. Dignity should be respected, accompanied by age, and sanctified by its whitened seal of time, it should be reverenced. We happened into the United States District Court, yesterday (some would say dropped, but we don't drop, except when we take a drop too much, and for fear our pen should drop too freely, we drop the subject), and the argument in the case of Alexander vs. Fitzpatrick was going on. A remark in regard to a "trick" of counsel had been made by one of the learned gentlemen, which immediately brought the other forth, and, in the most dignified manner, a personal reconnaissance sprung up. Things at one time looked like pistols and coffee, but things were finally explained, and we lost a good item.

A RICH SCENE.—Sallie Dean, a famous beer jerker, was before the Police Court this morning for disorderly conduct. She was fined twenty-five dollars for this charge, and fifty dollars additional for an assault she made upon one of the witnesses. The evidence produced against Sallie was anything but complimentary, and she went for the witness with a vim not often seen in a legal presence. She had in her possession a package which she throwed, in its passage narrowly escaping the Judge; this rather rattled his temper, and Sallie was called upon for a further deposit of fifty dollars.

DISCHARGED.—David Cowan, who was arrested yesterday for grand larceny, was discharged because of insufficient evidence to convict.

SHELBY COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.—The case of C. H. Weaks, indictment for horse stealing, occupied the attention of the Court on yesterday. The case was transferred to the jury at a late hour, and a verdict will probably be rendered on Monday.

Monday morning the roll of attorneys will be called and motions heard; after that the criminal docket will be proceeded with. The appearance docket will be taken up this week, on a day hereafter to be appointed, and judgments permitted to be taken in certain cases.

LAW COURT.—Stands adjourned until next Thursday morning, on which day cases of forum note and the special cases not reached on yesterday will be taken up. On Friday, should the above cases be disposed of, all cases on writs of inquiry will be investigated; at the conclusion of which an adjournment will be had to the next regular term—the second Monday in October next.

The jury in the case of Watson, trustee, vs. the Memphis and Tennessee Railroad Company, not being able to agree, was discharged.

The jury in the case of W. McDonald vs. Tims was discharged until next Friday.

CITIZENS' UNION BANK.—This institution removed on yesterday from 22 Madison street to the building on the corner of Main and Jefferson streets, known as the Planters' Bank building. The officers and their friends had a housewarming on the occasion, at which the geniality and hospitality of its officers were fully demonstrated. A mere mention of the officers of this institution is a sufficiency to prove its character, for it is seldom that such men as John Donovan, E. W. Winchman, and J. A. J. Smith, acting respectively as President, Cashier and Teller, are found associated and from such a combination we cannot but say that it is a harbinger of great success. In the rear of the bank building will be found the office of the Cayoso Gas Company, and its enterprising President, John Donovan, ready to attend to the business of this most important company.

GRAND OPENING DAY AT C. DOHERTY'S, No. 338 MAIN STREET.—Wednesday, October 2d, will be the grand opening day for the fall fashions. Mrs. Doherty has just returned from the East, where she has made choice selections from all the late French importations. She has a superb assortment of the most fashionable patterns, such as the LaGrange, Mantenon, Trianon, Metternich, Charlotte Corday, Mousquetaire de la Reine, etc., etc.

She has also a charming variety of hats—the Dejean, Brunelle, Spanish Chignon, Tyrolienne, Flirt, Venus, Belle and Cavalier. In coiffures she has some rare specimens: the Lucretia Borgia and Madame Bismarck being the most desirable. A large and elegant assortment of ribbons, satins, silks, velvets, flowers and fancy articles. 2t

Among the improvements being made on Madison street, we observe that our friends, McMahon & Otis, are fitting up an elegant office for the Memphis agency of the St. Louis Mutual Life Insurance Company, at 91 "Kit Williams' block." They will move into it this week. We are glad to observe this evidence of the prosperity and permanence of location in Memphis, of this solid and reliable Mississippi Valley Company. It is one of the very few institutions of the kind which did not give the cold shoulder to the Southern policy holders during the war.

THE TENNESSEE SAVINGS INSTITUTION.—It is with more than ordinary pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the above institution. Chartered by a late act of the Legislature, established upon a sound basis (a commercial paper), the honorable gentlemen of its business, all warrant as in vouching for it a large share of the patronage and confidence of the community. Colonel P. C. Bethell, well known as one of the leading capitalists of the State, is its President and Captain J. M. P. Pritchard, late of the Cayoso Savings Institution, is Cashier. By reference to its card, which will be found in another column, we observe among the directors the names of some of our prominent citizens: Mr. John C. Hanier, President Cayoso Savings Institute; W. H. Cherry, President Merchants' National Bank; James Elder, President Dalloto Bank. Such an organization speaks for itself. Let the business men of Memphis stand by this sound and substantial institution.

RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SUNDAY, September 29,
BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather clear and warm. The river continues to recede slowly, with no improvement in the channel between here and Cairo. The last packet down reported four and a half feet on the bars. The Ohio continues at low tide, with thirty inches in the channel, and navigation partially suspended. The Arkansas remains low, with only twenty-four inches in the channel to Pine Bluff. White river is getting low, with only four and a half feet to Augusta. St. Francis river has gone dry, and is navigated only by large sized catfish.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf yesterday was not very active. The Vicksburg packet, and the Rowena for White river, cleared with good trips, and there was little doing on the levee aside from the receiving of these packets.

The fine low water packet, the Pilgrim, in command of Captain Ike Whittaker, will be found at the wharf Monday morning ready to receive freight for Arkansas river and all way points. The Pilgrim is a No. 1 light draught boat, a regular institution, and carries the United States mail. Shippers wishing to put their freight through with dispatch will do well to ship on her.

The St. Patrick, Captain Garrett Huls, is the regular Tuesday Vicksburg mail packet.

The Belle Memphis, Captain C. Hemingway, is the regular Monday Cairo and St. Louis packet. George Dean, a clever gentleman, is her purser.

The Commercial, Captain Wm. Ashford, is the regular Tuesday White river mail packet. She will no found at the wharf Monday morning ready to receive.

Captain Tom Day, the gentleman who made himself popular along the river, as clerk of the Mollie Hambleton, has associated himself with the firm of Messrs. Foster & Kenhobor, wholesale grocers and commission merchants, No. 209 Main street. Captain Day would be pleased to see his old friends along the river, and he proposes to sell them groceries as cheap as any other house in Memphis.

The Rubicon, from St. Louis for Vicksburg, passed down last night.

The H. M. Shreve passed up from Vicksburg, yesterday, for St. Louis.

The Luminary was engaged yesterday in lightering the Virginia off the bar at Horn Lake.

The Commonwealth and Yankee, with barges, several days out from Cairo, had not arrived up to last evening.

The American, Captain Ed. Nowlen, leaves for Arkansas river, on Monday at five p.m.

The City of Cairo, one Friday night, had not arrived up to last evening. She will probably be found at the wharf this morning, and will leave to-day at twelve m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The St. Louis Democrat, of Friday, has the following:

River about stationary yesterday; somewhat improved above, and cutting out at Hat island, etc., with five and a half feet to Cairo. At Dubuque it was still rising slowly day before yesterday, with a report there of a three foot rise coming down. Thus, from the late rains, the navigation been improved above Davenport, and more slightly below. Advices from the Ohio river in regard to water are not encouraging, while the Illinois exhibits no change whatever. The steamer Illinois leaves this morning for Memphis, with freight of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Transportation Company, which she will ship at and point on the company's barges. The W. R. Arthur goes to New Orleans after the Louisiana, in the Atlantic line, and will tow the Champion, Captain Gregg, load in the same line. Captain Wm. E. Gee is loading the Henry Aitkin, to leave tomorrow evening for New Orleans. Charles Zeigler has done it all up! Married yesterday to the charming daughter of James Spore, Esq., of the Artists' Emporium, St. Louis. Our warmest wishes go with this young point of the Belle St. Louis. The bride, it is never brought the Belle into trouble nor by a happy augury for the future in his career through life with the valuable prize he has carried off. The Princess will leave to-morrow for White river. The Louisiana will leave this noon for New Orleans, and the Sherman will leave for Vicksburg.

"WOULD I WERE NOT TOO COWARDLY TO DIE."

BY MARY N. POPE.

Oh! be not the coward to dream thus of death,
To blench at the first cutting pang of a grief,
Despairing to mourn that the tempest's rude breath,
In thy garland hath withered a summer bright leaf;
But gird up thy loins, be strong for the fight,
'Tis the coward and traitor that grasps thist of flight.

What, though a sweet vision long cherished be o'er,
Life's plain honest duties are sweeter than dreams.
For the heart that shuts not its heaven blessed door,
To the claims of love from the heartbistone that beams.
They only are true hearts, they only are brave,
Who to live—not the coward, who flees to the grave.

The conflict is long, but there's bliss in the strife,
And hearts must not break nor yet "broken ly live."
The angels beside the glad fountain of life
Are waiting the victor, the guerdon to give,
Who sneathed not his sword till the battle was done,
Who claimed not the crown till by fight it was won.

Ungrateful! cast 'round thee thy mist blended eyes,
On thy pathway a thousand sweet blossoms are strewn,
A thousand bright streams of refreshment arise
And music, and melody thy heart to attune
To the anthems of worship the morning stars sang,
And the chorus the angels in unison rang.

List but to that music, its echoes shall wake
A sweet grateful melody deep in the soul,
Divine as the rapturous anthems that break
The silence when light on the universe stole;
And the small grow beautiful spire of its palm,
The heart gush with love, trust, and joy again.

Radicals Lionize Sheridan and Sickles.

The President's Impeachment Called For.

Unsettled Condition of Affairs in Italy.

Fears of a Fenian Outbreak in Dublin.

PHILADELPHIA, September 28.—At an immense meeting of Radical soldiers, resolutions favoring the impeachment of President Johnson were adopted. After adjourning, a procession was formed and marched to the Union League hall, where Generals Sheridan and Sickles were received with prolonged cheers. General Wagner addressed them in terms of welcome, saying that while the Army of the republic would follow them in their efforts to reconstruct on a basis of the will of loyal men as expressed in the acts of Congress.

In response to calls, General Sickles made a speech, thanking his comrades for the welcome, and strongly urging the carrying out of the reconstruction measures of Congress. He appealed to those soldiers who are spared not to leave undone the work their dead brothers did not live to help them do.

HAVANA, September 27.—The waters have overflown the town of Occadaro, causing some deaths and some damage.

Otterburg, late American Minister, obtained passports for home with his family, and Mr. Blake. The archives of the nation were left in charge of Counsel Crippi.

Marquez has been reported seen going into Tamaulipas with a mule load of money.

The Convocation is appointed to meet on the 2d instant.

The report at Vera Cruz that the condition on which the body of Maximilian was to be delivered to Admiral Tegethoff was the return of articles stolen and carried off to Madrid, is false. His property in Sonora, over $100,000, has been confiscated. Maximilian's body has been brought to the City of Mexico.

FLORENCE, September 28.—A serious riot has broken out at Udine, sixty miles from Venice. Armed bands paraded the streets, clamoring for revolution. These bands are largely composed of Garibaldian volunteers who have been compelled to fly from the Roman frontier by the Italian troops.

GENEVA, September 27.—Crowds of men assembled in the streets, yesterday, and loudly cried for the release of Garibaldi. Some violence was done.

LONDON, September 27.—Partisans of Garibaldi are creating tumults in various parts of Italy, for the purpose of obtaining the release of their leader. It is reported that the King is about to issue a proclamation calling an extra session of Parliament.

DUBLIN, September 27.—Fears are entertained that the Fenians, emboldened by the success of the mob at Manchester, will make a similar effort to rescue Captain Moriarty, who is now undergoing his sentence of imprisonment. The government is taking all necessary precautions against such an attempt. Forty of the Fenian convicts, who have hitherto been imprisoned in Irish jails, have been sent to Portland, England, for safe keeping.

LONDON, September 27.—Owing to the report that a supposed Fenian vessel had been seen off county Kerry, the Government has dispatched a number of gunboats to guard the southern and western coast of Ireland.

MARSEILLES, September 27.—Advices from Constantinople state that Omar Pasha has withdrawn his resignation and will remain at Canea, the capital of Candia, should the Sublime Porte desire him to retain that command.

LONDON, September 27.—Market unchanged. Consols, 94 ⅜@94 ½; 5-20's, 73 ¼; Illinois Central, 75; Erie, 40 ½; Atlantic and Great Western, 23 ¾.

LIVERPOOL, September 27.—Cotton heavy but unchanged; sales, 10,000 bales; middling uplands, 8¾; Orleans, 9d. The broker's circular reports the sales for the week, 60,000, of which 20,000 are for export and 10,000 for speculators. Stock in port, 823,000 bales, of which 233,000 are American.

NEW YORK, September 28, 12 m.—Gold opened at 140¾, was 140¾, and has since declined to 140¼. Cotton inactive and drooping; uplands, 21 9-16@22c. Exchange steady.

LIVERPOOL, September 28, 11 a.m.—Cotton active; uplands, 8¾d; Orleans, 9d; sales, 10,000 bales. Five-twenties, 72¾. Consols, 94 7-16.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer:

COTTON.

We gave yesterday from the Financial Chronicle, a statement showing the amount of the cotton production and consumption in the United States. Southern interests were no doubt struck by the fact stated that the consumption of cotton in the North was last year considerably more than it was fourteen years ago. In fact, the issue of twenty years, with all our increase of population in the interval, shows no increase in the consumption of that article. In the consumption, we may refer to the statistics given in the Round Table, which presents some details of the history of cotton, and a speculation on the prospects as regards its culture in the future.

The writer is not fully correct in assuming that the world is not dependent on the United States for its supply of cotton. As to quality, the truth is that, though our sea islands furnish a cotton superior to any thing grown elsewhere, Egyptian and a good cotton to that of average American. It is, however, no doubt true that, taking in view breadth of soil and conditions of climates, the capacity of America for cotton raising is superior to that of any other region of the world. The country commanded the markets of the world had it not been for our accursed civil war. Before that was forced on us, the production here was rapidly increasing. New lands were being taken into cultivation, and fresh labor applied to them. In ten years from 1850 the crop showed a steady increase, amounting to from 100 per cent. and in some years more. 1860 for instance would probably have reached seven millions of bales, and that, coupled with favorable weather, would not have fallen much short of those figures. We have seen that, with vastly not very unpropitious, this year's crop will not, it is supposed, exceed 2,500,000 bales, with the prospect of its falling below this estimate. After some pinching of no long duration Europe found a supply in cotton foreign to the United States, and the results have been, as we know, [illegible]. Last year, it is believed, England, had wherein in 1861, cut off from our own, received in England, and other countries from this country, only 1,000,000 bales. The need for other countries; in fact, England were supplied from other countries and only 1,000,000 by the United States.

The writer notices the prediction that our cotton product will be doubled at the end of ten years, meaning, of course, twice the large yield recorded before our civil war. He does not accept this conclusion, and broadly scouts it with the emphasis it deserves. Hereafter the cotton crop was made almost exclusively by slave laborers. Its cultivation, compared with many other articles of Southern produce, partook very much which afford food, is disagreeable. Hence black men will, as far as possible, shun it. As this writer has been informed, correctly enough, "after the plant is above the ground, the laborer must be in the field before sunrise, wet to the waist with his clothes permitted to dry, as best they may, and his lab r is not ended till night fall. He suggests the introduction of Coolie labor, but the sensitive people are against that. The rich cotton lands of hope of supply there. Hereafter owners of farms at the South who fill their own lands, will vary their annual crops, and make cotton but one and very likely a small item in their whole list of crops.

Notwithstanding receding prices, the market there has been sold down much lower in 1867 than last year. The stock on hand September 1st, this year, is only 86,138 bales, against 261,179 bales same time last year. The new year begins with an unusually small stock in the interior, and the receipts for the next twelve months will be almost entirely from the crop of this year.

The supply on hand and immediately anticipated in England is now very large, and consequently prices are low, twenty-five cents currency now against thirty-five last year at this time, with the prospect that before next spring prices will be still lower. Competitions as to the actual cost of raising cotton, put it at a figure which, added to all the other charges, leaves the planter without a profit. Among these charges is the Government tax which, it is rightfully assumed, comes out of the pocket of the planter. We cannot think that the loud call which will be made upon congress for the repeal of this tax will not be without its effect.

Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust to me executed by John H. Wagener, on the twenty-ninth day of June, 1867, which deed is of record in the Register's office of Shelby county, in book No. 81, pages 172, 173 and 174, to secure to Hiram A. Porter the promissory payment at maturity of a promissory note therein specified, and whereas said note is due and unpaid; now, therefore, by virtue of the power in me vested by said deed of trust, I will, on Tuesday, the twenty-ninth of October, 1867, between the hours of eleven a.m. and two p.m., at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Memphis, proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, the property in said deed conveyed, to-wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of lot No. 16, in sub-division C, in the southern portion of the estate of J. M. Curr, at a stake in the Pigeon Roost road, north 18 degrees, east 16 links from a poplar marked C, and thence north 18 degrees, east 4 chains 50 links to a stake, south 74 degrees, west 1 chain 84 links to a stake, south 18 degrees, west 4 chains 50 links to a stake, north 74 degrees, east 1 chain 84 links to the beginning, containing eleven fourteen acres. The above notes and bonds are taken so far as they follow the original lines from the plan of sub-division C of A. J. Curr's estate, and in a portion of the land described in the deed of J. F. Caruthers to Samuel Mansfield, recorded in book 61, part second, page 36, etc., said deeded to the said Mansfield and P. W. Robertson to H. J. Montgomery, of book 81, part second, page 172, etc., embracing a splendid residence, known as the "Mansfield Place." TERMS—Cash. This belleved to be good, but I convey only as trustee. se17 GEORGE H. MONSARRATT, Trustee

Sheriff's Sale,

Alfred Dixon vs. William Gallaway.

I WILL, on Thursday, the third day of October, 1867, at the Court House door in the court house, in the city of Memphis, between the hours of ten a.m. and four p.m., sell to the highest bidder, for cash, the following personal property, to-wit: One lot of FURNITURE, levied on as the property of defendant to satisfy and leasing executions in my hands. Said property sold by order of court.

P. M. WINTERS,
Sheriff of Shelby County.

J. F. LANFORD, D. S.

Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust to me executed by Thomas S. Jackson on the 14th day of October, 1865, which deed is of record in the Register's office of Shelby county, in book No. 69, part first, pages 128, 129 and 130, to secure to J. M. Brooks the prompt payment at maturity of two notes therein specified, and whereas said notes have long since fallen due and remain unpaid; now, therefore, by virtue of the power in me vested by said trust conveyance, I will, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., at the southeast corner of Court Square, in the city of Memphis, proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, the property in said deed conveyed, described as follows, to-wit: Lying and being in the city of Memphis, and county of Shelby, and State of said city, and beginning at a stake on Washington street at a point where Hobbs and Law's southeast corner is fixed on said street, (its north side) in a deed made to said Brooks by John M. Lee, and his wife Elizabeth, which deed is of record in the Register's office in book 10, pages 218 and 219, to which reference is hereby made; thence North fifty points east and sixty-one feet on and with the north side of Washington street to said Brooks' southwestern corner on said street, thence on and with said Lee and wife's west boundary line 145½ feet to an alley; thence west 61 feet parallel with Washington street to a stake; thence south 145½ feet parallel with said Lee and wife's west line to the beginning.

On Monday, 7th of October, 1867,

Terms cash. Title believed to be good, but I convey only as trustee. The equity of redemption is especially waived.
